

GENERAL NURSE

General Nurse programme graduates are prepared to perform jobs of General Nurse as defined by valid legislation of the Czech Republic. They learn to help physicians and specialists to examine and treat the patient and to work as part of medical team. They are prepared to educate patients and the public about various health issues and to provide advice and emotional support to patients. They learn to record the medical histories of patients and to analyse results of diagnostic checks.

Specialized classrooms for general nurses are fully equipped to simulate healthcare facilities. A variety of aids, tools and materials help students to learn how to provide high quality and safe health care. Students learn how to resuscitate, how to take blood samples, how to handle adjustable beds, how to handle infusion pumps, injection dispensers, defibrillators, bandage carts, cardiopulmonal resuscitation instruments and many other essential skills.

Graduates receive education which is in accordance with World Health Organisation instructions and guidelines and with Ministry of Healthcare Resort Safety Objectives.